

Professor Wong Siu Lun

slwong@hku.hk

Director

Centre of Asian Studies

The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Wong,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349

H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Elizabeth Sinn

hrahyy@hkucc.hku.hk

Deputy Director

Centre of Asian Studies

The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Sinn,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349

H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Cheng K. S. (Jonathan)

jkscheng@hku.hk

Research Assistant Professor

Centre of Asian Studies

The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Cheng,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349

H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Melissa G. Curley

mgcurley@hkucc.hku.hk

Research Officer, Honorary Assistant Professor
Centre of Asian Studies

The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Curley,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Lee Pui Tak

ptlee@hkucc.hku.hk

Research Officer, Honorary Lecturer
Centre of Asian Studies
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Lee,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Mr. Gan Yang

yanggan@hku.hk

Research Officer
Centre of Asian Studies
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Mr. Gan,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Mr. Wong Wai Ling

wongwailing@hku.hk

Research Officer

Centre of Asian Studies

The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Mr. Wong,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349

H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan

Shatin • New Territories

Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Nick Thomas

ndthomas@hku.hk

Research Officer, Honorary Assistant Professor
Centre of Asian Studies
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Thomas,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Dr. Mark Mason

mmason@hkucc.hku.hk

Director
Comparative Education Research Centre
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Dr. Mason,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Dean Mark Bray

mbray@hkucc.hku.hk

Dean and Chair Professor
Faculty of Education
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Dean Bray,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Mok Ah Che

iacmok@hkucc.hku.hk

Associate Professor
Comparative Education Research Centre
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Mok,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Nirmala Rao

nr Rao@hku.hk

Associate Professor
Comparative Education Research Centre
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Rao,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Wong Kam Cheung

kcwong@hkucc.hku.hk

Associate Professor
Centre for Educational Leadership
The University of Hong Kong

East
Asian
Research and Translation in
Hong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Wong,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Ng Ho Ming

hmng@hkucc.hku.hk

Assistant Professor
Centre for Educational Leadership
The University of Hong Kong

East
Asian
Research and Translation in
Hong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Ng,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Colin William Evers

cwevers@hkucc.hku.hk

Office of Research
Faculty of Education
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Evers,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Law Wing Wah

wwlaw@hkusua.hku.hk

Centre for Educational Leadership
Policy, Admin., and Social Science Education
The University of Hong Kong

East
Asian
Research and Translation in
Hong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Law,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Dr. Auyeung Lai Y. W.

hkpeac@hkucc.hku.hk

Associate Professor

The Hong Kong

The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Dr. Auyeung Lai,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349

H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Cheng Kai Ming

kmcheng@hku.hk

Chair of Education
Wah Ching Centre of Research
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Cheng,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Tony Hayes

ahayes@hku.hk

Cognitive Science Center

The University of Hong Kong

E ast

A sian

R esearch and

T ranslation in

H ong Kong

ong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Hayes,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349

H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan

Shatin • New Territories

Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Barbara Gorayska

csgoray@cityu.edu.hk

Cognitive Science Center

The University of Hong Kong

E ast

A sian

R esearch and

T ranslation in

H ong Kong

ong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Gorayska,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349

H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan

Shatin • New Territories

Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Elaine Francis

efrancis@hkucc.hku.hk

Cognitive Science Center
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong
ong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Francis,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor K. K. Luke

kkluke@hkusua.hku.hk

Head

Department of Linguistics

The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Luke,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349

H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Ki Wing Wah

hraskww@hkucc.hku.hk

Cognitive Science Center

The University of Hong Kong

E ast

A sian

R esearch and

T ranslation in

H ong Kong

ong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Ki,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann

HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349

H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan

Shatin • New Territories

Hong Kong • China 04

Professor Rumjahn Hoosain

hrnyrho@hkucc.hku.hk

Professor of Psychology
Cognitive Science Center
The University of Hong Kong

East
Asian
Research and Translation in
Hong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Professor Hoosain,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04

Dr. John Bacon-Shone

johnbs@hkucc.hku.hk

Director
Social Science Research Center
The University of Hong Kong

E ast
A sian
R esearch and
T ranslation in
H ong Kong

Hong Kong, 03/09/18

Re: Introduction to the HKLNA-Project

Dear Dr. Bacon,

The HKLNA-Project is a multidisciplinary project that draws on expertise from economics, socio-linguistics, language education, statistics, political science, psychology, and marketing. Its principal objective is to examine the soundness (or more probable unsoundness) of East Asia's universal English language requirement as a means for the promotion of cross-cultural communication, educational enlightenment, technology transfer, and commercial competitiveness in East Asia. As EARTH is a Hong Kong firm the project's natural starting point is Hong Kong -- hence, the name Hong Kong Language Needs Assessment Project. The following provides you with a direct link to the project's first research proposal

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/documents/proposals/030828-1.pdf>

More information about the HKLNA-Project itself can be obtained at

<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/current/hklna/index.html>

Once contact among interested parties has been established a general meeting will be held in order to answer questions about the proposed research and allow interested and potential participants an opportunity to meet with one another and me. Certainly your input with regard to the project's first proposal is and will be heartily welcomed. Please direct all queries, comments, and knowledge of probable donors directly to me at the contact points provided in the foot of this letter.

EARTH welcomes you and your feedback!

Sincerely,

橋 守

R. A. Stegemann
HKLNA-Project Director

East Asian Research and Translation in Hong Kong
<http://homepage.mac.com/moogoonghwa/earth/>

hsmr@pacific.net.hk • tel/fax: 852 2630 0349
H2-30 Sunshine City • No. 18 On Luk Street • Ma On Shan
Shatin • New Territories
Hong Kong • China 04